BACKGROUND

Having worked in the federal government sector for 7 years, Michael identified the monotony of this role where he was de-skilling and losing his touch with his profession. Through research, Michael saw the reach and utilization of core skills in community settings for greater impact and that sense of achievement. It wasn't long until Michael upgraded his qualifications with a thirst for development, and began to make a footprint in the community in both disability and aged care sectors.

Having expanded to share his knowledge with like-minded therapists whom appreciate the challenges and achievements of this role, Michael went from a single soldier to what is now known as the MC Occupational Therapy team. These are select individuals whom are multi-disciplinary, multi-lingual, and professionally diverse. The team are well known in the industry for their commitment to humanity with mental health knowledge and strong reports capturing behaviours and psychosocial disabilities, complex modifications across all funding schemes, SIL/SDA champions, professionals with assistive technology, and excellent trainers. This team of individuals welcome regular input from Michael whom thrives on the development and upgrade of each member on their professional roadmap.
